RELY ON QUALITY TRAINING

Laws exist to protect worker health and safety on the job, but these are minimum standards. Given workers' lives and livelihoods are at stake, health and safety training should be comprehensive, effective and trusted.

Workers Health & Safety Centre (WHSC) delivers all this and more.

Meet legal training requirements

Does your workplace meet all mandatory health and safety training programs and standards? The following are just some of many important legal training obligations:

- JHSC Certification. Revised and more extensive Certification Program Standards for Joint Health and Safety Committees, including a minimum number of hazards to be covered in Part II Certification training, took effect March 1, 2016.
- Working at Heights. October 1, 2017 is the final deadline for universal compliance with working at heights training standards in the construction sector, although for those yet untrained in a Ministry of Labour-approved program proof of registration is required immediately.
- WHMIS-GHS. As of June 1, 2015, employers must also train or retrain workers and supervisors to comply with the changes to WHMIS regulations prompted by Canada's adoption of the Globally Harmonized System of Classification and Labelling of Chemicals (GHS).

Employers must provide training related to:

- Safe Lockout
- Worker Awareness
- Confined Space Entry
- Supervisor Competency
- Mobile Equipment Operator Competency
- Transportation of Dangerous Goods
- Workplace Violence and Harassment.

Rely on WHSC

WHSC is Ontario's government-designated OHS training centre, enshrined in the Occupational Health and Safety Act. WHSC training meets and exceeds all Ministry of Labour requirements. Our constituents and clients tell us our hazard-based training helps them implement effective overall health and safety programs that deal directly with the real causes of worker injury, illness and death – the hazards themselves. As such, we are the leading provider of quality health and safety training in Ontario.

WHSC's proven delivery model ensures:

- Participant-centred learning
- Building on workplace experiences
- Demonstration of knowledge and skills
- Portable records of training
- Highly competitive pricing
- Responsive service
- Ongoing support.

Finally, WHSC offers the training you need, where and when you need it through:

- Scheduled training essentials in a community near you
- An extensive catalogue of some 200 hazard- and industry-specific training programs
- Free workplace training compliance assessments
- Onsite training anywhere in Ontario
- Customized training for very specific workplace goals.
